LANGUAGE: Collocations
with deep, high, heavy, strong

Complete the following sentences with "deep", "heavy", "high", "low", or "strong".
Sometimes you may need a comparative or superlative form.
(Ergänze die folgenden Sätze mit "deep", "heavy", "high", oder "strong". Manchmal benötigst Du auch eine Vergleichsform.)

1. Can you open the window, please? Those onions really do have a _____ smell about them!

2. Well, water definitely has a _____ density than air, doesn't it?

3. Hello, wake up! Earth to Suzanne! – Oh, sorry, I was miles away in _____ thought just now. What's the matter?

4. It's not all that easy to rouse someone from a _____ sleep.

5. We can't go out right now, that rain's looking a bit too _____.

6. Traffic is usually _____ during rush hour.

7. She's a vegan, and she really has some quite _____ opinions on the issue of food.

SOLUTION

1. Can you open the window, please? Those onions really do have a strong smell about them!

2. Well, water definitely has a higher density than air, doesn't it?

3. Hello, wake up! Earth to Suzanne! – Oh, sorry, I was miles away in deep thought just now. What's the matter?

4. It's not all that easy to rouse someone from a deep sleep.

5. We can't go out right now, that rain's looking a bit too heavy.

6. Traffic is usually heaviest during rush hour.

7. She's a vegan, and she really has some quite strong opinions on the issue of food.